MEMORIAL DAY VERSE

Memories, a tribute to the "Grand Army of the Republic," the "Spanish American War Veterans" and the "Boys of the World War."

We remember hearing our Father tell,
Of the Civil War, of men who fell.
A hand to hand conflict then, they say,
Men fought in an old fashioned way
With sword and bayonet in hand,
For well they loved their native land!
While they had life, they took a stand,
For Liberty, Fraternity, an allied band.

Spanish American War
Tribute to the "Spanish American War Boys"

O'er America, thy flag shall wave,
O'er many a soldier's lonely grave.
Our America, land of our birth,
Among the Nations of the earth
For Courage, Truth, and Honor stand,
In Mercy's cause, an allied band!

The World War
A tribute to the "Boys of the World War."

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend"

On battle field's, the millions slain,
Some now in hospital, on beds of pain!

That day is done, the setting sun,
We pray may rise on a world begun
To ask for Peace, God's blessed Peace.

When war with it's pain, will forever cease.

At Garden Theatre Greenfield

When George M. Cohan stated, for the press, that dialogue pictures were confined to four walls, he certainly did not include the Fox-Movietone production, "Speakeasy", which is the feature attraction at the Garden Theatre. The scenes in this sensational talking picture are staged in the Madison Square Garden, New York, at the Belmont Race Track, in subway tunnels, on main streets of the great metropolis and, in fact, all over the big city. More than that, they are not the usual news reel shots because the players are right there acting their parts.

One of the greatest of them all, Henry B. Walthall, carries away stellar honors by his perfect portrayal of a down and out piano player. The veteran actor fills his role to the brimming point with incomparable work and rich voice.

TREE DAY WAS A WONDERFUL TIME AT THE SEMINARY

Queen of the May, Robin Hood, Maid Marian, Friar Tuck and Lads and Lassies Tripped it on the Green

Marquand field was the scene of one of, if not the most beautiful Tree Day programs ever given at the Seminary last Monday afternoon. Perry pond, the trees delicately leaved and the sloping hillside on the further shore made an ideal background for the May Day Frolic which was presented under the direction of the gymnasium of which Miss Phoebe Prowse and Miss Lucille Burnham are the faculty, by the senior class of 58 members and the juniors, 85 in number. A large chorus of students rendered several songs appropriate to the scenes presented.

The scenes were on a village green with shepherds and lassies singing and dancing who then hie to the woods to gather hawthorne blossoms. The village green is made merry by the laughter and songs of little children as they trip a merry measure. When the shepherds and lassies return from a-maying the little girls collect silver coins for "Our Ladye", who is represented for the children by a doll enthroned in the floral cart.

And now comes "mirth and youthful jollity" as shepherds and lassies circle the May-pole and gleefully wind the gay streamers. This was a lovely scene with the many colored costumes and graceful dancing.

The prettiest girl of the village with many a fair maid in attendance now enters and is crowned Queen of the May. Ruth Walker of Gould hall, president of the senior class was the May Queen and little Caroline Speer was train bearer and she crowned the Queen. Her other attendants bore trays of colorful flowers. John Webber was a page. The Queen came with her train from over the hill and all the village folk stood aside for the procession. This scene was the climax and was very beautiful.

The forester's horn calls Robin Hood and his followers, Maid Marian, Little John and Friar Tuck to join in the revels. The Dragon and Hobbyhorse caper close behind.

Milk maids join the Merry Men and all first salute the Queen as they pass in slow procession. Then the maids, as maids will, dance with Robin's men, then sing a merry tune:

"Up early in the morning we

To trip it o'er the green."

The foresters now take part in an archery contest in which Robin is crowned victor.

The frolic ends by the villagers trooping away to the lilting tune of "A-maying, helgh-ho."

The slopes of Marquand field and the road were thronged with a delightful audience.

Following the events on Marquand field, all hunted for the senior class tree which was found by Palmer Hall. Here Ruth Walker gave the spade oration to which Marion Jahnke responded. Then the crowd climbed Chapel Hill where the class will was read by Elizabeth Corning, president of the junior class, followed by senior class songs. The seniors were guests of their brother class at Mt. Hermon for the evening.

TONSIL AND ADENOID CLINIC SUCCESSFUL

The second annual tonsil and adenoid clinic proved as successful as the one held last year. There were 24 patients operated upon and no unfavorable results have been reported.

Rev. F. W. Pattison is chairman of the clinic, Mrs. Elliott Speer, secretary and Mrs. George Pfefferle, treasurer.

Mrs. Earl Lilly, community nurse, was in charge of a corps of resident professional nurses. They were Mrs. Lee Howard, Mrs. Joseph Ross, Mrs. Clyde Mattern, Mrs. W. H. Whitaker and Miss Grissell McLaren. Dr. Millett brought Miss Conway, a nurse from Greenfield. Others from the town assisted. Cots and mattresses were loaned by Northfield Seminary and this part of the work was in charge of George W. Carr.

Luncheon at noon was furnished to the staff by the executive committee of The Fortnightly with Mrs. C. H. Webster in charge. The charge per patient was $18 and the other expenses are being met by citizens and organizations contributing.

HOW NEW ROADS AND PLANS FOR MORE ARE COMING ALONG

Preparations are being made for a survey for a state concrete highway between Hinsdale and Ashuelot, a distance of four miles. The New Hampshire state highway department has authorized the survey, which will be made this summer but the construction of the road will not be started until next year.

The road is to be paid for out of the state aid maintenance money and while the cost is not known definitely it is likely to be around $180,000, as the cost of such roads is now running about $40,000 a mile.

An entirely new course is contemplated for this road to avoid the present narrow and crooked road along the bank of the Ashuelot river. The plan is to build it on higher ground extending from Hinsdale over through the woods to lower Ashuelot village. There are practically no residences on the part of the old road that is to be supplanted by the new one.

The new highway is to have a 20-foot roadway with three-foot shoulders.

Work on the three miles of concrete highway to be laid this season on the Hinsdale Brattleboro road is progressing well at the hands of the contractors, B. Perini and Sons of Ashland, Mass. It is on the Hinsdale end, extending westerly from the bridge at the junction of the road to Northfield and while it is being built, traffic is being detoured over the Monument road which is in fairly good condition. The concrete road is to be 20 feet wide. The time limit is 70 working days from the time the job started. A penalty of $100 a day is specified for each day the job is delayed beyond the time limit and a bonus of $100 a day less than 70 that is consumed in finishing the job.

EDITORIAL

The definition of success as given in the dictionary is the favorable termination of anything attempted. Although it is quite right, success covers more than the definition implies.

Success depends upon the person who sets out to gain a name for himself. It is not to be accomplished in a day, as some people think. One who is easily discouraged can never gain that which is called success as he will give up when the road grows rough, and to give up is far worse than to fail.

A person may gain success only by persevering until his task that he has set for himself is completed.

Helen Keller, for instance, has made a success of her life although she has not all the abilities that God has given most people.

If she could gain success, why can't people with all their abilities gain it also? Success does not have to be an especially large or hard task but anything done thoroughly and well is one favorable point gained for success.

He allowed 8 hits while Reed, the Northfield pitcher allowed 17 hits. The score seemed back and forth many times and incidentally was tied up until the seventh inning. It was on account of the poor support of the H. H. S. team given to Smith that allowed Northfield to beat us, only three put outs being made by the rest of the team.

They will be in the parade in town on Sunday, May 26th and the Belado-Crowley post, American Legion will take them to Irving on Memorial Day. The McCoy property on Pratt street has been purchased by Gustave A. Hooke.

Montague City

A Fishing Tragedy

Henry Gilman, his son, Chas. Gilman and grandson, Robert Gilman, were all drowned Saturday while fishing on a lake at Rome, N. Y. Mr. Gilman and his son were former residents of Montague City and he formerly worked for the Montague Rod shop. The son went to Rome to work about 20 years ago and the father went there about six years ago.

The three Gilmans, with a guide, went fishing Saturday. At about 4 o'clock in the afternoon another boat passed them on the lake and the Gilman's said they were going to stay out a while longer. At 6 o'clock they had not come ashore and a boat was sent out in search of them. Four hats were found floating upon the water and the boat was found drifting bottoms up. No trace was found of the occupants.

Mr. Gilman leaves his wife and a daughter, Frances, also a brother, Edward of Montague City.

Eugene F. Staiger was chosen water commissioner in the contest of the Turners Falls Fire district annual meeting Monday evening. The meeting was held at Elberian hall and was attended by 748 voters.

The report of the officers and departments was accepted as printed. Articles 4, 5, and 6 dealt with taxes, and borrowing money in anticipation of them, and were favorably passed.

An article to see if the district would require a bond from its treasurer and tax collector, also passed, with the amount set at $5,000; $3,000 was voted to be taken from the excess and deficiency account to reduce taxes of the current year.

Article 10 called for a fire alarm box at Park Villa and was passed.

Article 8 contained the majority of the business of the meeting and the appropriations for the departments of the district. A total of $43,672.45 was appropriated in the eighteen items of the article. This was divided as follows: prudential committee, $350; legal expense, $100; accounting, $625; auditing, $45; treasurer and collector, $750; election expense, $170; district clerk, $50; printing reports, $132.45; first station, $1,000; fire engineers, $650; fire department, $6,800; fire alarm system, $750; fire hose, $500; maintenance of apparatus, $1,250; street lights, $11,000; debt and interest, $14,500; water construction, $2,500; water department, $2,500.

A Peacemaker

President Hoover shines as a "com-passer of differences." If an assault is made on a foreign minister and the entire diplomatic corps is upset by it, he smoothes customs by having the offended minister as his dinner guest in the role of a personal friend.

Senator Fess sought to castigate Senator Borah for his political independence. That would never do! So to mend the break the President had Borah for luncheon on the Sabbath. Before he got away Fess showed up for Sunday supper, and then the two senators naturally discussed administration measures. Result: Pax!

Cuba has played an important part in strengthening the entente cordial between North America and Latin America. She set the stakes for Mr. Hoover's goodwill journey last fall. Her generous and whole-hearted hospitality to Mr. Hughes and the American delegation at the Pan-American Congress disarmed criticism of Central and South America for this country's interference in Nicaragua. She created the atmosphere which made Mr. Hoover's visit a success.

Now it is known of all men that Mr. Hoover has visioned something more than increasing trade with Central and South America. He was no advance agent, no propagandist, no advertising salesman for American made goods on his recent trip. This continent, North and South America, should be bound together in bonds of amity and glorified self interest, until it will point the way to all nations which wish to live together in peace. A wonderful vision, worthy of Isaiah himself.

Cuba is tied more closely to the U. S. than that of her neighbors. She felt keenly the failure of Mr. Hoover to visit her shores when he was so close to them. So she has invited him to come this fall, and he has consented. One of her newspapermen, M. Koenigsberg, an American who is known to all American newspaper men, to most European newspaper men, and to many in Latin America, was a visitor at the White House the other day to present a formal invitation to the president. He did and he also laid Cuba's sugar burden on Mr. Hoover's broad shoulders. He told the president that the increased tariff on sugar would cripple Cuba's sugar industry and would cause economic troubles in that now depressed island.

As secretary of commerce Mr. Hoover learned much of Cuba's economic development. He knew that Americans had poured a billion and a half dollars into Cuba, eight hundred million of it in the sugar industry. He knew how nobly Cuba responded during the war to the call of this country for more sugar and more sugar. He realized that this created an obligation on this country not to punish Cuba.

Girls, you may be interested to know that the daughters of cabinet members and senators in Washington are trying out the short bob, and many of the debutantes do up their accelerated locks with beautiful new colors and designs of pyralin-made combs that look even richer than the tortoise shell contraptions and gewgaws their mothers used to wear.

"Johnny," said the teacher of physiology, "can you give men a familiar example of the human body adapting itself to changed conditions?" "Yes, sir," answered Johnny. "My aunt Maria gained 47 pounds since she came to live with us and her skin never cracked at all."

OUR POET'S CORNER

Smiles

We get up in the morning
Feeling fine and full of fun;
But how much fun do we have left,
When the long day is done?

If we're a man we whistle,
While shaving merrily;
The razor slips and cuts our cheek,
And we aren't so full of glee.

Then we lose our newest hankey,
Tip our shaving water over;
And it drenches our best necktie,
Fore it dribbles on the floor.

Then we dawdle thru our breakfast,
And miss the train by an inch;
THEN the man that can smile, is the one worth while,
And it isn't such a cinch.

Editorial

WHAT KIND OF "MOVIE" IS THE BEST SELLER?

We have been asked this question by several of our local theatre managers but always heretofore evaded the issue. For this reason: These managers are all fine fellows, deservedly proud of the service they are rendering the community and taking a far deeper interest in the quality of entertainment they are offering than in the mere moneymaking end of the game. Of course, they want to make money; we all do; but, at the same time, (thank God for it) most of us only want to make our money in a way that is constructive and not destructive to the community.

Now these managers know and well know that we know, also, that by merely pandering to the lower natures of the mob, with the films that depict sex problems, gilded crime and general immorality, they could crowd their theatres to capacity for every performance. For, sad to relate, by such a procedure they not only attract the many who openly admit that they want such shows, but also no mean proportion of those who speak in opposition to them. For human nature is a queer thing and, despite our protestations, we all follow the crowds.

The Master bids us to resist not evil but rather overcome evil with good. One way to do this, it strikes us, in the movie line would be not to attack the bad movies and not countenance them by going to see them. So far so good; but how about the other thing: Overcoming evil with good? Does it not become our bounden duty to attend all the good movies we possibly can and boom them in every way we can, so as to uphold the theatre managers in providing this form of entertainment? Think it over. Cheerio.

THE EXPORT DEBENTURE IDEA

If not now, why then later on, the export debenture plan, in some form or other, will be utilized by this country to give the farmer some kind of a show in the protection of industry game. It seems to be the only practical way of doing so and it seems significant that the four European countries who utilize it in this way, have gradually extended its application, until they now have something really worth while.

For a non-technical definition of the export debenture plan, this from the Boston Herald, will be found illuminating. "Assume the existence of a surplus of wheat which must be sent abroad. The exporter, whether farmer, cooperative association, stabilization corporation or other party, receives from the United States Treasury a certificate stating the fact and the quantity of the exportation. This debenture will be accepted by the United States Treasury in payment of import duties on any commodity whatever, and by whomever imported. The value of the certificate will be one-half the tariff on wheat, making the debenture at the present time worth twenty-one cents for every bushel exported, and a diamond importer or an importer of raw wool could use the debenture up to its full face value in payment of the duty on any goods he brings into the country. The debentures would be good for one year. It is assumed that the exporter could easily sell them to manufacturers or other importers. The plan would operate in the same manner for any other debenturable commodity."

FIGURES SEEM TO INDICATE THAT MARRIED MEN ARE MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN THE SINGLE

It has been said that it is hard for a man to get along with his wife and harder yet to get along without her. And now comes the statisticians of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. who have made a study of the various factors that go to make a man successful and they tell us that married men have the best chance to succeed.

In the many hundreds of cases investigated, Mr. Ernest C. Holt, general agent for this well known company, tells us that the record shows that out of a hundred married men examined, 59 were well advanced towards success; while 41 had failed to make the grades. Among the single men, however, there were more failures than successes, the score standing 49 successful, while 51 had made records mediocre or worse.

In Northfield, last year, there were 20 births and 30 deaths. Marriages numbered 22. If the marriageable men and women of this town will take heed of these figures on success and failure, perhaps the marriage license business hereabouts may improve from now on.

NATIONAL GRANGE IS STRONG AS EVER FOR DEBENTURE PLAN

The National Grange is very much in the limelight at Washington these days, due to its vigorous advocacy of the Debenture Plan of "farm relief" and its emphatic assertions that without some such measure attached, the proposed relief program will bring little benefit to farmers anywhere. The entire Grange membership of the country is very heartily back of the Washington program and countless resolutions have been passed by local groups, in many states, endorsing the attitude taken by Grange leaders in their presentation of the Grange case before Congress.

The Debenture Plan is everywhere recognized as a Grange project. Three annual conventions of the National Grange have endorsed it and Granges have made an exhaustive study of all its angles. The National Grange issues a great amount of literature fully explaining the plan and has been successful in enlisting the support of many other groups, as the principles of the plan are becoming better understood. A vast amount of political pressure has been put upon the Grange leaders to endeavor to induce them to abandon the Debenture program, but the Grange lines have grown steadily stronger and the organization has no other intention than to carry its legislative fight through to a finish.

After President Hoover's public condemnation of the Debenture proposal the National Grange issued this dignified but temperate statement, which reveals at a glance the attitude of this big farm organization:

"We have no intention of entering into any newspaper controversy with the President of the United States. Our opinion as to the soundness and workability of the debenture plan has not been changed."

A young man was being questioned by a life insurance official about his father's health. "I'm not sure, but I think he died in infancy."

The land in which the White House stands belonged to David Burnes, an aged Scotchman, who very reluctantly gave up his 600 acres for the federal city when negotiations were in progress for buying up land for the national capital.

Uncle Sam Makes New Loan to Greece

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon (left) and the minister from Greece to the United States, Charalambos Simopoulos, signed the documents at the Treasury department which refunded the Greek debt of $18,000,000. At the same time Uncle Sam granted Greece a new loan of $12,167,000.

If Goodyear Tires were not the best tire-buy for you—we wouldn't be recommending them.

We live in this town, and expect to be here a long time. Common sense tells us we can build our business only as we take good care of our customers.

Selling a customer anything but the best is not taking care of him.

We know that—so we recommend Goodyear Tires.

They're the best tires—proved by the fact that more people ride on them than on any other kind.

That's why we handle them. That's why you should use them.

Northfield Farms

Local Representative, Harry L. Glasier, Northfield Farms

Among those attending the clinic for the removal of their tonsils and adenoids at Alexander hall, Northfield, last Saturday were three children from this place, Marshall Hammond, Velma Shearer and Lawrence Glasier. They were operated on in the afternoon and taken home in the evening. They are all making a good recovery and are glad it won't have to happen again.

Lewis Wood and his father, Frank Wood went on a motor trip to Boston last Saturday, returning home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Cota and children visited Mr. Cota's parents in Winchester, N. H., recently.

Charles Whitaker and family and family, and Mrs. Marion Hudson of Keene, N. H., and Mrs. Nevers and Mr. Cross of Gilesum, N. H., called on Mrs. Eva Stacy on Sunday.

Mrs. C. L. Gilbert is spending a few days with her brother, Frank Evans at Northfield.

Mrs. Charles Leach, Charles, Jr., and her father, Mr. Peabody, went to Meredith, N. H., on Saturday, returning on Monday to visit an aunt of Mrs. Leach who is very sick.

Miss Theresa Ellis of Lexington, who has been visiting her friend, Mrs. Charles Leach has returned home. Ernest Gaines has been sick and unable to work for a few days.

On next Sunday evening we are expecting Rev. George Tyler of South Vernon to have charge of our evening meeting in Union hall. Mr. Tyler will be accompanied by the South Vernon choir and we expect this to be an event well worth attending. Try and be there Sunday evening at seven o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Starkey of Greenfield called on Mrs. Eva Stacy Monday evening.

Men working on the new state road have built new pasture fences for John Galvos and Charles Gilbert alongside the road where widening of the road made necessary the setting back of the old fences.

At Victoria Theatre Greenfield

At the Victoria Theatre, Greenfield, today and Saturday, Keith's Vaudeville, four big acts. On the screen, Norma Shearer in "A Lady of Chance" synchronized with sound and musical effects.

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, "Alibi", based on the stage play, "Nightstick" by John Wray and J. C. Nugent and Elaine Sterne Carington. A United Artists picture. All talking.

Gangland with its mysteries, fascinations and romances based in a pulsating tale of the battle between blue-coat and black-jacker for the heart of a girl. Human!

The most independent of all motion picture producers and directors is Roland West, whose latest achievement "Alibi", the United Artists film, comes to the Victoria Theatre Sunday.

West makes just one picture a year, takes months to prepare it and months to film it, and he won't deviate from this custom.

Formerly a successful stage producer and playwright, West entered the film game at the same time Joseph M. Schenck, now the president and chairman of the Board of Directors of the United Artists Corporation. West directed the first picture that Schenck ever made more than a decade ago.

West believes "Alibi" is the most suspenseful screen play of his career. It is a powerful story of crooks, laughs, love and night life with an ultra-modern setting and taken from the stage success, "Nightstick."

Excellent short pictures in addition. Answers to "How Much Do You Know?"

1. Henry L. Stimson.
2. No.
3. Continent of South America.
4. John Bunyan.
5. Two. Cleveland and Wilson.
6. Blue, white and red.
7. New Zealand.
8. Knickerbockers.
9. Jezebel.
10. Last of the Mohicans.
11. King of the Roman Gods.
12. That it is lucky to find one.

Chic Tweed Suit

Animated blue gray creates an interesting mixture for this tweed suit. A gray silk blouse is worn tucked-in style and the gayly printed scarf repeats the color combination. The youthful beret is of dark blue.

Mount Hermon

George N. Fairbanks of the class of '25, of Keene, N. H., arrived recently to work on the farm.

Mrs. Carroll Rikert had as her guest over Sunday, Miss Mary Kleig of Springfield, Mass. Mr. Rikert's brother, Benjamin of Syracuse, N. Y., was here over last Monday night and again on Wednesday of this week.

All the teachers of mathematics attended on Saturday, the 18th, a meeting in Holyoke of the Connecticut Valley Association of Teachers of Mathematics. Several made side trips or calls on the way back, among them, Arthur D. Platt, who went on to his home in Hartford, Ct., where he stayed until Monday.

Rev. J. East Harrison returned on Tuesday from a several days absence from the Hill.

Dr. and Mrs. Cutler spent several days in Boston and vicinity recently. Master Archibald Stark has not yet returned from his visit to Rochester, N. Y. Nathan is now at his home with the family.

Katherine Drury spent Sunday at home.

Horace H. Morse, who was the leader for the missionary prayer meeting on the 15th, gave a very interesting talk on Joan of Arc.

Paul A. Williams spent the week-end in the general vicinity of Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon L. Norton drove down to Hartford this week-end to see their new, and only grandson, the son of Norman Norton.

Miss Anna L. Miller returned Wednesday night from her trip to Washington, D. C., and New York city.

Mount Hermon was not without its share of visitors over the last week-end. Mrs. J. A. Kynor of Maplewood, N. J., with three friends, arrived on Friday staying at London House and remained until Monday morning, the primary object of her visit being, of course, to visit her son, Alden, a junior in school. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Crider of New York city, with their small son, spent much of the time over Sunday on the campus although they were guests at the Mansion House, Greenfield and were entertained by Miss Flagg of Cottage Four in which dormitory Mr. Crider lived while a student in school. Victor Smith, now a student in Harvard, was seen here on Sunday and Monday. Rev. Joseph B. Palmer, religious secretary of the "Broadway Y", New York city, stopped at Mt. Hermon on Sunday on his way to the Y camp at Lake Swanzey and stayed over until Monday.

F. H. Merritt, photographer of San Pedro, Calif., has made several trips by automobile from his home to Boston, Mass. This year he drove a Model A Ford Tudor Sedan and the entire round trip cost him $128. He traveled 9,104 miles and his only trouble was one punctured tire. His daily average was 325 miles.

"WHY I GO TO CHURCH"

by Hon. John Wanamaker

By Hon. John Wanamaker

You might just as pertinently inquire, "Why do I eat?" or "Why do I sleep?"—because I find one is just as necessary to my well-being as the other.

I could eat well and sleep well, and yet be a very miserable man without the spiritual uplift that only comes from an attendance upon the divine ordinances.

Then again it is a great privilege to touch shoulders with the earnest Christian men who are also interested in promoting Christ's kingdom upon earth.

For four years while Postmaster General under the Harrison administration, I traveled nearly 1,000,000 miles in order to be present each week at my own church.

I have made it the rule of my life to be in my regular place each Lord's day when in health and in the country, believing that Paul was inspired to write that we should not forsake the assembling of ourselves together.

I also believe that the temptations of every man are great, and unless he has more than the ordinary ground-work of honesty and faithfulness, he may be caught by the sudden wind of plausible opportunity and tumble over the precipice and be ruined.

If you stick to the golden rule, you will never be measured for stripes. Some slave to keep from thinking, while others think to keep from slaving.

Tune in with opportunity and you'll hear her knock.

Hatching Game Birds

Rhode Island red hens and bantams are being given employment by many farmers and sportsmen in the hatching of game birds. The famous "reds" are used as foster mothers for ringnecked pheasants, while the bantams occupy a similar role for bobwhite quail. Great quantities of pheasant eggs have been distributed by state game commissions and sportsmen's organizations for hatching under hens this spring.

Those who are informed as to the food habits and other requirements of rearing game birds in captivity are having marked success. However, better luck is experienced in the case of the ringnecks, than with the more delicate quail. Where there is sufficient land the pheasant chicks and the foster mother are transferred, immediately after hatching, to a brooder coop in which the mother is kept and from which the chicks gain exit thru slats on the front of the coop.

This coop is placed beside a strip of ground sowed with corn, buckwheat and sunflowers to provide cover and, later, food for the young birds. But for the first few weeks, the youngsters are kept on a special diet which is changed from time to time as the chicks become older.

Total fuel consumption of the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. during the past year was 12,700 carloads, enough to make a coal train 100 miles long.

W. G. Bailey of Wauchula, Fla., drove his Model A Ford business coupe on a 4,000 mile trip carrying two passengers and heavy baggage, and the cost of oil and gasoline was only $40, a rate of once cent per mile.

Gabs and Jabs

"My son robbed a bank yesterday."

"What?"

"Yes, he got his first week's pay as assistant to the president."

"Well, my man," said the Irish doctor to his patient, "what's the matter with you?"

"Pains in the back, sir," replied the patient.

"I'll put you right," said the doctor, handing him a few pills. "Take one of these a quarter of an hour before you feel the pain coming on."

"What's that you call your mule?"

"I call him Corporation," answered the old colored man.

"How did you come to give him such a name?"

"Fum studyin' de animal an' readin' de papahs. Dat mule gets mo' blame an' abuse dan anything else in de township, an' goes ahead doin' his work jes de same."

Still, the beach comes in handy for engaged couples. The girl can see what she's getting, too.

If speakers would not arouse the ire of those who are patiently listening. Then let them remember this one true thing:

"The longer the spoke the bigger the tire."

The Living Water

John 4:7, 9, 10, 13, 14. There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. 9. Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. 10. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water. 13. Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: 14. But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

PRAYER:—Lord, Give me the living water, that I thirst not.

Lake Pleasant

The program of the August meetings to be held by the New England Spiritualist Camp Meeting association has been issued in a very attractive eight page booklet and is ready for distribution to all who may apply to the secretary. Camp meeting will open on Sunday, August 4th and close Sunday, September 1st. A splendid list of psychics and lecturers has been secured.

The Lake Pleasant Inn will be operated this season by the association under the direction of Lawrence P. Bennett as resident manager. Mrs. C. S.
DeWolf of Montague will be in charge of the kitchen, and the Inn will open Sunday, June 30. The painting of the outside of the Inn will be finished this week, and the extensive inside renovations will be completed by the end of the month.

The dances in the Temple will start Saturday evening, June 1st. The well known Goodnow Singing orchestra has been re-engaged, this being its third season to furnish the music for the Lake Pleasant dances. The Temple has been cleaned and the floor put in excellent condition for the starting of the dance season. The reconstruction of the long bridge over the ravine is practically complete. The bridge has been rebuilt from the foundations up at an expense of nearly $3000. Mrs.
Mary E. H. Rutter of Utica, N. Y., has been a universal benefactor to all here by meeting the entire expense of this greatly needed convenience.

The early campers are coming daily, especially those from Florida. Among these to arrive are William Orichley,
Mr. and Mrs. William M. Jenkins, B. T.
Gaskill and family, H. S. Streeter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mosher and Edward Whitney. Mr. Whitney is building an addition on the cottage recently purchased by H. S. Streeter and also superintending the repairs in the Inn. Leonard Bemis has completed the painting of the interior of Secretary A. P. Blinn's cottage.

Sunderland

Baxter N. Fish

Baxter N. Fish, 78, died in Springfield hospital Saturday night following an operation. Mr. Fish was a native of Shutesbury and came to Sunderland when a young man being employed as a clerk in Whitney L. Warner's store until Mr. Warner's death in 1905.
Since that time Mr. Fish owned and operated the store until he retired a few years ago. He was assistant postmaster for several years and was postmaster from 1905 to 1915. Mr. Fish was town clerk for 25 years and was library trustee for 35 years. He was also a notary public.

Mr. and Mrs. Fish sold their home and removed to Amherst six weeks ago.
They had spent their winters at the Davenport hotel in Amherst for several years. Mr. Fish married Elizabeth Warner, daughter of Mr. Warner, his former employer, Dec. 2, 1890. He leaves his wife and a sister, Mrs. Fred

GRADES IN THE BLUE RIBBON HEALTH TEST

The following grades in the Orange schools have entered the Blue Ribbon contest held by the Franklin County Public Health association to find the healthiest boy and girl at the county fair.

South school: Miss Frances Tupper, teacher, grade 7; Miss Helen Smith, teacher, grade 6; Miss Beatrice Alber, teacher, grade 5.

Central school: Mrs. Kathleen Flynn, teacher, grade 6; Miss Mary Quinn, teacher, grade 5; Mrs. Ella J.
Lacasse, teacher, grade 7; Mrs. Alice Foskett, grade 7.

High school: Miss Ruth Thurlow, healthy children to Greenfield for the expect to send even healthier ones, so it behooves the other towns to look to their laurels if they wish to capture the prize of King and Queen.

Camp-Fire Apples

Try this on your next picnic. Wrap a nice, juicy apple in some aromatic leaves like sassafras. Encase both leaves and apple in a layer of wet clay.
Deposit the whole in the embers of your fire and leave there for about twenty-five minutes.
When you take it out, the clay will break away and you will have a delicious roasted apple, the juice of which has been retained by the leaves.

The Open Road

Everywhere in New England the open road calls to a world on wheels.

Checkered concrete climbs the hills to glorious views beyond. Black macadam threads shadowy arches of gothic elms. Ribbons of crunchy gravel wind along New England's singing streams.

A vacation land. It beckons the wayfarer on and on.

Nor need one be wholly vagabond
to answer the call.

Alongside New England's motor highways run the copper highways of speech. At every cross-road the Blue Bell invites to talk with home.

Telephone service in New England is so swift, so sure, so reasonable in cost, that one need never lose touch with business, family, or friends, however far afield.

The W. H. and F. M. society met at the Vernon Home Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. George E. Tyler's Sunday school class and the Young Women's Auxiliary have a supper at Buffum's hall on Friday at 4 p. m. The proceeds go to help support a girl in India. All are invited.

Next Sunday, May 26 the morning service will be at 10:45 a. m. Sermon by the pastor, Rev. George E. Tyler. Church school at 12:05 p. m. standard time. In the evening the pastor and church choir and the people will go to hold a meeting at Union hall, Northfield Farms at 7:30 p. m., daylight saving time. Everyone is invited to attend.

Rev. George E. Tyler has been ill with a severe cold the past week.

The State Line Garden club invited the Soil Tillers of Vernon to meet with them at the South school house last week Thursday evening. A pleasant time was spent in playing games. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and punch were served.

Mrs. J. E. Lawrence of Brattleboro came Saturday night for a few days' stay at her summer home at Elmshade Farm. She returned to Brattleboro Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. E. Brown has been seriously ill at her home for more than a week. She has had five different doctors in as many days. She seems a little more comfortable at this writing. Her efficient little daughter, Eleanor, helps to care for her, assisted by Mrs. William M. Stone.

Mrs. Eva M. Travers, 37, who died at her home in Merrimac, Mass., April 3rd was brought here for burial from Haverhill, Mass., on Saturday, May 18. The body was put in the tomb in Haverhill. Rev. George E. Tyler officiated at the committal service. She was a sister of William Streeter who had her buried in his lot.

They were children of Lucien Streeter, who used to be residents of Vernon about 40 years ago. Mrs. Travers left several small children. Mr. Travers, who is an invalid, came with the body, besides other relatives and friends.

It is rumored that smallpox has entered the town of Vernon. Mrs. Leon Powers was sick with it and it is feared her father, J. Alfred Johnson, who runs the town tractor, has it. The town authorities have ordered the road gang to all be vaccinated at once.

SOME INTIMATE DETAILS OF FLOOD DISASTER
AT COLEBROOK, N. H.

Some extracts from a letter from Donald P. Mattoon, head master of Colebrook Academy, Colebrook, N. H., to his parents here in Northfield, Mass.:

"At five in the afternoon we were called at the (Colebrook) Academy and warned that the dam at the Balsams, a summer resort at the foot of Dixville Notch, was about to go out and that we should leave the building at once....The message given about town was that when the fire dren was allowed to keep blowing that everyone should leave town, for the dam really would have burst then. About 6:30 when I was at the post office the siren sent out its shrill blasts and I can assure you that the chills started to run up one's back in no uncertain fashion, for there was no knowing the damage to be done.

"From 6:30 to 7:45 the first selectman and I were assisting aged people from their homes to the high land and seeing to it that all who lived on low land were warned to take heavy clothing and go on the hill tops or in houses high above the main street. At eight o'clock the waters struck and almost immediately there were no lights in town. Nearly everyone was away, except perhaps forty of us.

"After the lights went off it was a weird sight to see a house move from its foundations and, under the glare of a powerful flashlight, see a building slowly fall down a wide street; or see a cord of wood floating on Main street, where a few hours before cars moved along at a rapid pace. News accounts will tell all about this.

"Fortunately, the water did not rise near the house in which our furniture is placed and I lost only a few books at the Academy. What was lost at the Academy in other ways represents much work. For three years we have been planning and carrying out designs which would give a model plant. Now, all that has been wiped out, so far as laboratories are concerned and we must start over.

"Last Friday night there was nine feet of water where the laboratories were and as the water subsided we found about 16 inches of solid silt in the main portion and about 2½ feet in the boiler rooms. In this mud was mixed benches, cupboards, platform, shelves, instruments, flooring, windows, doors, bricks, coal, wood, plumbing materials, janitor's supplies and almost everything there was in the basement. The job has been to salvage as much of the equipment and chemicals as we could and junk the rest. Most of it has been junked for it was impossible to get it out of such a muck mess hole....There was about 250 tons of mud in this portion....We still have to remove 20 inches of solid mud from the shop building which is 32 x 40 feet. This will be a little job in itself.

"I have had the gang in tow here and while I get a little more than a laborer's pay regularly, I can't see that I am any better on the end of a shovel or holding a scraper handle or lugging a bushel basket of mud. However, it takes some gimp out of a fellow, who is no more used to physical labor than I, to set the pace for a gang. The members of the gang hated the mud job and I agreed heartily with them but the job had to be done and someone had to get them at it to save grumbling. Thank goodness, it is nearly done.

"A committee has sent out over 2000 appeal letters for there is need for many thousands to replace buildings and repair damages."

Danger and Waste in Food Spoilage

Keeping food supplies from spoiling during the hot months is almost impossible in an old-fashioned Ice Box. With natural ice, cold can be produced only by the melting of ice, and with a steadily diminishing supply of ice you are bound to have a lessening of refrigeration together with an atmosphere dripping with moisture—conditions ideal for the deterioration of foods.

The Electric Refrigerator

The Automatic Electric Refrigerator affords the only perfectly scientific method of preserving food supplies, keeping them in an even low temperature, without a particle of moisture. Under these ideal hygienic conditions your food will keep indefinitely, as fresh and sweet as when placed in your Refrigerator.

And besides the saving your Electric Refrigerator will effect in the prevention of the spoilage of expensive food the cost of operating, an Electric Refrigerator is less than the cost of producing an equal refrigeration with melting ice.

The work of building the new piece of state road between Farley and Orange is well under way. Much grading and the elimination of several curves will greatly improve the road, which will probably take about three months to complete. Work on the road between Millers Falls and Northfield is progressing rapidly and many changes are evident to motorists who use the road. When completed it will be nearly straight and there will be no steep hills. The contractors have four steam shovels at work on the job and several trucks hauling gravel for filling.

Joseph Richards of Nashua, N. H., spent a few days last week at the home of Joseph S. Ellinwood.

Mr. McLeod, who spent the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson of Farley, has returned to his home in Bellows Falls, Vt.

Miss Ethel Farley is at the inn in Farley for the summer. Her uncle, H. I. Farley of Heath is staying with her for a few weeks.

Last Sunday afternoon an automobile containing several young men went through the fence on the state road on a turn just this side of Farley. The young men were bound for North Adams where they were going to work on construction work. One of them was so seriously injured he was taken to the Farley hospital. The others were treated for minor cuts and bruises and after their machine was repaired at the Erving Garage they continued their trip to North Adams.

Thursday evening May 23rd a goodly number of the Erving Brotherhood accepted the invitation of the Greenfield Brotherhood to a meeting. The Erving boys went prepared to entertain their hosts and from all accounting they were successful.

EDWARD MARCUS TURNER

Edward Marcus Turner, 70, almost a life-long resident of Erving where he was greatly respected as a citizen and associate, died last week Wednesday night about 8 o'clock in his home on Church street, the result of a shock which he suffered May 4th. He had been in failing health for the past three years but was able to work during that period.

Mr. Turner was born in Northfield, the son of Chauncey B. and Marguerite (Simonds) Turner. Shortly after his parents returned to Erving to live and he grew up here.

Mr. Turner was married to Miss Cora Leonard of Northfield 50 years ago next September and with the exception of three years spent in Northfield the couple spent all their married life in Erving. For 50 years Mr. Turner was employed in the chair shop and was one of a group of five who not long ago sat for a photograph, representing the old timers of the Heywood Wakefield Co. Included in the group aside from Mr. Turner were Elliott Holland, Clarence Turner and the late Messrs. Elbert Holland and Charles Gary.

Mr. Turner was a faithful workman, a man of the best principles, dependable and conscientious. He was of a retiring nature and was always careful not to offend people. For over 40 years he was a member of Social lodge of Odd Fellows.

Besides his widow he leaves four children, Oren L. of Hartford, Ct., Nell E. of Southbridge, Monroe Turner of Hartford, Ct., and Marguerite Shepard of Concord and one brother, Clarence Turner of Erving.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Congregational church and was in charge of Social lodge of Odd Fellows. Rev. Dean Holt officiated and burial was in the Erving cemetery.

Considerable excitement was caused Wednesday morning of this week when the steam roller belonging to B. Perini and Sons, Inc., road contractors, went over the east side banking on Depot street while it was being driven from the local railroad station to the new road job. The roller was quite badly damaged it was found upon removing it from over the bank but the driver escaped without injury. The lifting of the roller was done by the company's steam shovel between one and two o'clock that day.
